Axis Reports Tell of New Threat to Far East's
Gibraltar

(By The Associated Press)
An official Tokyo broadcast asserted late today that British authorities at Singapore had begun to mine the causeway bridge connecting Singapore island to the mainland as Japan's invasion armies drove into the rain-whipped jungles of Johore state, 100 miles north of Singapore.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, said Emperor Hirohito's forces "are now conducting a terrific offensive against 30,000 British troops which are guarding the last defenses of Malaya."

The news agency had previously declared that 30,000 British had been trapped in the green-hill wilderness north of Singapore.

Domei quoted "foreign reports" as saying that British forces defending the "Pownall Line" stretching 125 miles across the extreme lower peninsula were rushing up reinforcements from Singapore "for a last desperate defense before falling back on Britain's Asiatic Gibraltar."

New Threat to Singapore
Axis reports reaching London said Japanese troops had landed on an island in the Dutch Rhio archipelago just south of Singapore, in a new threat to Britain's great Far East stronghold.

The reports also declared that Japanese forces moving down the Malay east coast had out-flanked the town of Endau, 100 miles north of Singapore, and that its fall was imminent.

In the Philippine war theater, an official Tokyo broadcast declared that Japanese troops were now pressing Gen. Douglas MacArthur's American-Filipino defenders southward into Batan peninsula from Hermosa.

Hermosa lies at the northeast gateway to Batan peninsula. On the northwest approach to the

George Submits New Manufacturers' Tax
Scheme of Treasury

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) said today he had passed on to the treasury, without recommendations, a proposal for a new type of manufacturer's tax which might raise a considerable portion of the $9,000,000,000 in new levies requested by President Roosevelt.

George, who is chairman of the senate finance committee, said the proposal called for a low percentage tax on manufactured articles after deductions had been made for the cost of production. The primary profits on these articles thus would become subject to tax, if the proposal were adopted.

George said that of the many revenue raising proposals which had been submitted to him, this was one of few he considered worth further study.

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh will not return to active duty with the Army Air Corps, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today, but for the present will engage in technical research on a commercial project in which the war department is directly interested.

The War Today!

The sinking of a Panamanian tanker in our own home waters off the Long Island coast, presumably by an axis submarine, looks mighty like the harbinger of the all-out U-boat campaign which Herr Hitler is likely to inaugurate when the good weather arrives—and that's not so far away.

It's hardly likely the fuhrer would undertake a major offensive at this time of year, although this sinking follows the torpedoing of a big steamer off Nova Scotia Tuesday with heavy loss of life. The Atlantic kicks up too much fuss in winter to permit of concerted submarine activity.

However, come the spring and the allies must be prepared to see the nazis cut loose with a heavy drive against shipping, not only with submarines but with bombers and torpedo planes.

We mustn't forget how vitally important the outcome of the battle of the Atlantic is both to the allies and the axis. The stream of supplies which is pouring from this country is what Hitler has to fear most, next to his present inability to replenish his own resources.

And this threat is no mean one. We can't just look down our noses and rely on the fact that the Kaiser's submarine campaign in the World war failed. It failed after the United States got into the conflict and provided warships with which to counter the menace, but the Germans missed winning the war with their U-boats by a nose.

Then we must note that things have changed since the World war. The air has provided a new and frightful menace not only to merchant shipping but to warships. It is my personal thought that Hitler is likely to cut loose against the British navy and our naval ships in European waters in an effort to shatter the allied protection of the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. The axis offensive which seems to be boiling up in the Mediterranean now may easily be part and parcel of this strategy.

There is no way of estimating accurately what power Hitler can unleash in submarines. Supposedly he has a big fleet, and guesses have placed the total at 600 and more. Whatever the number may be, we do know that he has weakened his Atlantic force by sending submarines to the Mediterranean and the Black sea. However, it would be unsafe to assume that his pack of sea wolves isn't formidable on the Atlantic side.

The brunt of attack presumably will be borne by shipping either approaching or leaving the British Isles, but there can be no doubt that U-boats will be haunting the

Defense Orphan No. 1 Believes

Chicago, Jan. 15—(AP)—There's a woman in suburban Glencoe who believes the president could not have picked a better man than Donald M. Nelson to direct the nation's wartime industrial production.

She is Mrs. Helen Nelson, his wife.

"Of course, I am now war defense orphan number one," she said with a smile. "But women must learn to make sacrifices. I am not complaining. As a matter of fact, I do not consider my personal care a sacrifice."

"Some women give their country their sons; others give both husbands and sons. To me it is indeed, an honor and a privilege to give my husband to my country. I wish I had sons to give."

Red Shock Troops Make Frontal Assault on
100,000 Germans

(By The Associated Press)
Russian shock troops were reported smashing in a direct frontal assault today against 100,000 Germans massed at Mozhaisk, 57 miles west of Moscow, in what appeared to be one of the greatest and perhaps most decisive battles of the war.

Mozhaisk is the keystone of the dwindling German defense corridor on the Napoleonic road from Moscow to Smolensk.

The British radio said that a savage battle was raging at the gates of Mozhaisk and that "one key position is said to have changed hands several times."

Other Red army forces, slowly closing a giant trap around Mozhaisk, were officially reported to have recaptured the town of Medyn, 35 miles to the southwest. This meant that the Germans now had only a 70 mile wide escape route from Mozhaisk, with soviet troops pressing down from Volokolamsk in the north and Medyn in the south.

Volokolamsk is 35 miles north of Mozhaisk.

New Registration of Aliens Ordered

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Attorney General Biddle today ordered all German, Italian and Japanese aliens in eight western states to apply for special identification certificates between February 9 and February 28.

The attorney general said that dates would be fixed later for identifying enemy aliens in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

Acting under a presidential proclamation issued yesterday, Biddle announced at his press conference that the alien enemies of the age of 14 would be required to carry at all times an identification card bearing a photograph and one fingerprint.

Great Expansion of United States
Army Now Planned

3,600,000 Officers and Men Under Arms This Year Contemplated

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today the Army had started expanding to approximately 3,600,000 officers and men, more than doubling its present strength in ground and air forces.

Stimson said the increase, authorized by President Roosevelt, would be made this year, with the first three new divisions to be organized by March 15.

Looking to further increases of undisclosed size next year, camp facilities are to be expanded in the meanwhile.

The expansion, announced at a press conference, calls for:

More than double the number of air combat units.

Creation of 32 motorized or tri-angular divisions, in addition to the 27 conventional ground troop divisions now in service, and doubling the number of armored units.

A proportionate increase in anti-aircraft, engineer and similar special units.

Formation of 50 or more military police battalions to replace troops now guarding critical facilities in continental United States.

For 75,000 New Officers

A large increase in the number of men in training centers to provide replacement for all organized units and the personnel for "the additional units to be created in the spring of 1943."

A "large proportion" of the 32 new triangular divisions, Stimson said, will be fully motorized. Of such units now in service, only 3 had been ordered put on wheels when war came.

Aside from the armored force, the army's remaining divisions are mostly national guard square divisions, larger but less mobile than the triangular divisions.

Stimson declined to say how many new armored units are contemplated. Five such divisions had been created or were in process of organization last fall.

The first three new triangular divisions to be created will be full strength, of about 15,000 men each, he said.

Just what the new air force expansion amounts to also was left unsaid. The air forces were in process of expansion from 54 to 84 combat groups before hostilities began, and previous plans were to have a minimum of 400,000 fliers and auxiliary troops in service by next June 30.

As a part of the vast expansion, Stimson announced at the same time, 75,000 officers will be commissioned candidate schools this year and requirements for air force pilots, bombardiers and navigators had been lowered from 20 to 18 years. Married men now also may train as fliers, and intelligence tests have been substituted for educational requirements.

Stimson said the Army increase called for a vast expansion also

Court Finds Fee
in Judge Edwards
Estate Case Just

The Appellate court at Ottawa has reviewed an appeal filed by Chicago attorneys representing Mrs. Eleanor Weston, the former Mrs. Harry Edwards, widow of the late Lee county jurist, who contested the claim of Attorney H. C. Warner of this city for services as executor of the estate. The finding of the Appellate court upholds the decisions of both Circuit Judge Leon A. Zick of Oregon, sitting in the Circuit court here, and of Judge Grover Gehant of the Lee County court.

The executor filed a claim for services rendered as executor of the estate in Lee County court. Judge Gehant fixing the fee at $12,000. Mrs. Weston, contested the claim and an appeal was taken to the Lee Circuit court.

At a hearing, presided over by Judge Leon A. Zick of Oregon, the claim was upheld, with the result that appeal was taken to the Appellate court. No specified amount was asked when the claim for executor's services was originally filed.

Court Reviews Case

The Appellate court in its review of the case found that the appellee assumed personal responsibility for all of the personal assets, their preservation, the collection of current accruals, and the efficient and proper administration and distribution of the large estate. The inventory alone covers 11 pages of the record and there were 128 separate bonds and 33 notes and mortgages of various maturities. The preparation of the inheritance and income tax returns alone, the higher court held, required both time and skill.

All of the actions of the executor, the finding holds, required a high order of skill, under a personal responsibility for accuracy, efficient administration and fidelity. No criticism is found in the record of the manner in which the executor performed the duties imposed upon him. The evidence shows that he carried out his duties diligently and efficiently.

Reasonable Compensation

"In our opinion, appellee did not exaggerate the time necessarily spent in the service he rendered the estate. He fixed no fee for his services, nor expressed any opinion as to their value, but detailed what he did. He was entrusted by the testator to execute the desires he expressed in his will. He did so in an acceptable manner. The testator knew from his experience that he would be compensated for so doing out of the assets of the estate he administered. Four disinterested competent lawyers and two courts have fixed the amount of his compensation at $12,000 for the services he rendered. All of the evidence is that this amount is reasonable compensation for these services. The order of the Circuit court is therefore affirmed," the decision states.

Nelson Has Status
With Capital "S"

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—By empowering Donald M. Nelson to make final decisions on war production, President Roosevelt has given him such status, the White House indicated today, that legislation to place him formally on a level with cabinet officers is unlikely.

Answering questions, presidential secretary Stephen Early said he thought Nelson would be called into cabinet sessions whenever there was any discussion which concerned the vast war production effort. But as for legislation to give Nelson a formal rank with the cabinet so that there might be no question of his authority and status, Early remarked:

"I do not think he needs more status than the president gave him. When he's empowered to make final decisions, what more status does he need? I'd call it status with a capital S."

Deliberate, Methodical
Attack Revealed by Navy Department

BULLETIN

New York, Jan. 15—(AP)—The coast guard station at Quogue, Long Island, said today that survivors of a ship attacked off the Long Island coast were being brought to shore.

New York, Jan. 15—(AP)—Disclosure that an enemy submarine had deliberately circled a Panamanian tanker just off Long Island, exploding two torpedoes in her port side and one in her starboard, was made today by Navy officials in detailing the closest approach of actual warfare to the nation's east coast.

Rear Admiral Edward C. Kalbfus, commander of the Newport naval base, disclosed that the attack by an unidentified submarine on the tanker Norness had resulted in the death of two men—revising an earlier Navy estimate. He said 38 officers and men had been rescued and were in "good shape."

The Norness was still partially afloat today—her bow sticking almost vertically out of the water—and Admiral Kalbfus notified the Navy department that the vessel constituted a menace to navigation.

The torpedoing occurred at 12:20 a. m. (C. S. T.) Wednesday just 60 miles southeast of Montauk Point, Long Island, little more than 100 miles from New York harbor.

Methodical Attack

Navy officers told the story of a deliberate, methodical attack in which the submarine first discharged a torpedo into the port side of the fuel-oil-laden tanker, swung about and fired another torpedo into the other side, and then returned to send a final "tin fish" into the port side of the stricken vessel.

Admiral Kalbfus identified the two dead men as Kaare Reinertsen and Cecil Drenth, both apparently Norwegians, as were most of those rescued. None was an American citizen.

Small Enrollment
for Home Defense

Residents of Dixon and vicinity have been slow to realize the importance of registering for the Home Defense organization, it appeared upon examining the enrollment to date at the office of City Clerk Wayne Smith today. Less than 150 men and women have volunteered to serve in the several services in the event of an emergency. In Morrison, more than 500 have enrolled in the organization.

The enrollment blanks indicate some registrants signing up for service in different departments. The list of departments and total number of enrollees to date follows: air raid wardens, 24; electric workers, 2; first aid squad, 12; auxiliary police, 8; decanation squad workers, 3; emergency medical aid, 7; first aid stations, 3; fire watchers, 12; food and housing, 6; nurses aid, 2; firemen, 8; clearance squads, 8; rescue squads, 10; road repairers, 8.

To secure complete information and enroll in the nation-wide movement applicants may call at the office of City Clerk Wayne Smith in the city hall building.

"Folks Back Home" Expected to Influence Price Control Law

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Congressional supporters of President Roosevelt today counted upon the influence of "the folks back home" to help them modify the exceptions which the senate made for farm products in the proposed wartime price control legislation.

"It was to give the voters a chance to make themselves heard, these legislators confided, that a joint congressional committee delayed until today a start on the difficult job of adjusting senate and house differences on the control program.

Senator Brown (D-Mich.) who was floor leader for the senate bill and heads the six conferees from that chamber, said it probably would take some time to work out the conference report.

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 15—(AP)—John Walters, 20, was struck by a railroad streamliner traveling 90 miles an hour and lived to tell the story.

"It was an awful floating sensation," he said later.

The rear end of the truck was carried a mile down the tracks and all four horses which he was transporting were killed.

Balanced Diet—Vitamins—Fortified Foods.

Swamped by a sea of puzzling new words, modern homemakers are ready and eager to go into convention sessions and hear an up-to-the-minute interpretation of the food phrases that are being used every day, everywhere.

As news of the approaching Telegraph's Cooking School spreads through Dixon and its trade area, homemakers are asking whether these modern terms will be clarified at the four afternoon sessions, beginning Tuesday.

Mrs. George Thurn, nationally known home economist who will preside over the immaculate demonstration kitchen in the Dixon Theater next week, makes it her business to keep informed on just such timely subjects, so that she can pass on these findings to inquiring audiences that greet her in every city. Mrs. Thurn is impressed by the fact that the nation's homemakers all share the same awareness of vital nutrition problems, in spite of geographic differences and diversity of age and need.

"Balance" Stressed

Stressing "balance" rather than vitamins, Mrs. Thurn says: "Vitamins are still mystery elements to many homemakers who are conscientiously seeking to give their families a well-rounded diet. It is more helpful to talk about a 'balanced meal' based on just what the name implies—all the needed food elements, the minerals, vitamins, proteins, and carbohydrates."

"Dentists know that vitamins C and D are important to the building of good teeth," Mrs. Thurn explains. "They tried prescribing vitamin pills to help teeth. Then they tried calcium and phosphorus tablets. Sometimes they prescribed both vitamin pills and mineral tablets, or quantities of milk and orange juice. But dentists, like leading medical authorities, are learning that one or two vitamins alone are only part of the story. Sound teeth, like healthy bodies, are the Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—Automobile-use tax stamps go on sale today, but many motorists will have to furnish their own glue to fasten them on, and many others may be unable to find a place to buy them.

The treasury said shipping delays would keep some postoffices and federal revenue offices from getting their supplies immediately. The stamps sell for $2.09 and will be good from Feb. 1 until July 1, when a $5 stamp will be required for the following full year.

The glue mixup resulted from regulations which in 23 states prohibited stickers on windshields. The glue was put on the back instead of the front, but subsequently most of the states waived the rules to permit display of the stamps.

Firing Squad Rule Is
Order in Conquered
Philippine Areas

Washington, Jan. 15—(AP)—A mighty army of 3,600,000 men is in the making, Secretary of War Stimson said today, to hasten the victory fought for so far against heavy odds.

Whereas today's army commune told of "greatly outnumbered" troops holding fast against the Japanese in the Philippines, Stimson's announcement carried with it this picture:

Twice the number of present air combat units.

Creation of 32 motorized or tri-angular divisions.

Twice the present number of armored units.

Overall, a more than doubling of the Army's present strength in ground and air forces.

Meanwhile, the expanding navy chalked up a triumph in the sinking by one of its submarines of a 17,000 ton, 1939-built Japanese liner. The liner was the Yawata class, probably convertible into an aircraft carrier.

The daily report on the Philippine defense told of another whittling at the axis air forces, with a statement that two heavy Japanese bombers were shot down and others hit, while the casualties among the defenders were few.

Japs Decree Firing Squads

Japan's resort to a ruthless firing squad rule for the conquered areas of the Philippines gave the Capital pointed evidence today that a fifth column of Filipino patriots is at work for General Douglas MacArthur behind the invader's line.

MacArthur's communiques for some days past have shown that he was able to secure prompt information on what was happening in enemy-held territory, but it remained for Tokyo to acknowledge the effectiveness of this undercover intelligence service by invoking the death penalty.

Advance knowledge of enemy movements and dispositions, it was pointed out here, would be of incalculable value to MacArthur's army in its last stand on the rugged Batan peninsula, northwest of Manila, and would prolong its ability to hold out.

For its immediate and future value, a persevering Filipino fifth column bulwark more important here in long-term war consideration than the appearance of a hostile submarine raider in Atlantic coastal waters.

The underseas foray, presumably by a Nazi U-boat, occasioned little surprise in official circles, for such raids have been more or less expected. It was generally regarded as an attempt to give Japan a reassuring gesture of axis support.

May Prestage Campaign

The possibility was recognized, however, that it might prestage a concerted axis underseas campaign to achieve the same objectives U-boats had in World War I—to disrupt Atlantic shipping and to force the Navy to divert units from more important duties to strictly defensive patrol work. The World War campaign, it was recalled, failed utterly.

Psychologically, officials said, the raid probably would serve a

Special Session of Assembly Ends; Deadlock Unbroken

Lt. Gov. Cross Charges Democrats Sabotaged Defense Program

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Angry exchanges between Republican and Democratic leaders over the defeat of most of Governor Green's state defense program brought the legislature's month-long special session to a stormy final adjournment today.

Partisan discord flared anew in the closing midnight session of the senate after Lieut. Governor Hugh W. Cross issued a public statement declaring Democratic legislators had "sabotaged" the governor's bills by injecting into the session "petty party politics to a degree seldom witnessed in legislative halls."

Senator Richard J. Daley, Chicago, the Democratic minority leader, called Cross' statement a "falsehood ill befitting the lieutenant governor." Daley told the senate that by defeating $11,000,000 in appropriations which Governor Green had sought, the Democratic bloc "saved the people money that would have been spent needlessly under the guise of defense."

The special session ended with Governor Green having won passage of but $5,947,000 out of the slightly more than $16,000,000 of appropriations he recommended. These sums were $5,000,000 for the Reserve Militia, $750,000 for the State Defense Council and $197,000 for a statewide natural resources survey.

These sums were $5,000,000 for the Reserve Militia, $750,000 for the State Defense Council and $197,000 for a statewide natural resources survey.

Cross' Statement

Mentioning the defeat of the governor's proposal for expansion of the highway police force and the health department and for a $3,000,000 defense contingent fund, Lieut. Governor Cross' statement said in part:

"From the hour that the session was convened, petty party politics was injected by the Democratic party to a degree seldom seen in legislative halls. x x x

"Let us hope that no emergency may arise and that life and property within the state may not be jeopardized. If one single life is lost as a result of the defeat of the governor's program, public opinion will hold accountable those who opposed this program."

Daley, speaking on a point of personal privilege, asserted: "It ill benefits the lieutenant governor to accuse us of playing politics because we opposed bills, introduced here under the cloak of defense, that were nothing more than an attempt to increase the administration's political patronage."

Adjournment Delayed

Since the adjournment of the senate was delayed more than an hour, until 1:20 a. m., while legislators of both parties jumped into the verbal fray.

In winding up its work at the pre-dawn session, the senate passed unanimously three minor bills, including one making theft of an automobile tire, regardless of its value, a felony punishable by one to ten years' imprisonment. The bill now goes to Governor Green for signature or veto.

Members of the house, meeting this morning, were scheduled to vote on a $49,380 appropriation for the Illinois Aeronautics Commission and then lock up their desks and go home.

Here is a summary of principal legislation enacted and defeated in the general assembly's special session ending today:

Bills Passed

$5,000,000 appropriation to increase the state Reserve Militia from slightly more than 5,000 to 10,000 officers and men.

$750,000 for the Illinois State Council of Defense.

$197,000 for a statewide survey of natural resources.

Appropriations totaling $88,000 for expenses of the session.

$2,500 supplemental appropriation for the state training school branch at Sheridan.

Authorized state health department to set up health zones in defense areas.

Revised criminal code to make the theft of an automobile tire, regardless of its value, a felony punishable by one to ten years' imprisonment.

Possession of disease germs cultures, with intent to injure persons or animals, made a felony.

Bills Defeated or Failing to Pass

To increase state police from 350 to 1,000 men.

$3,000,000 defense contingent fund for governor.

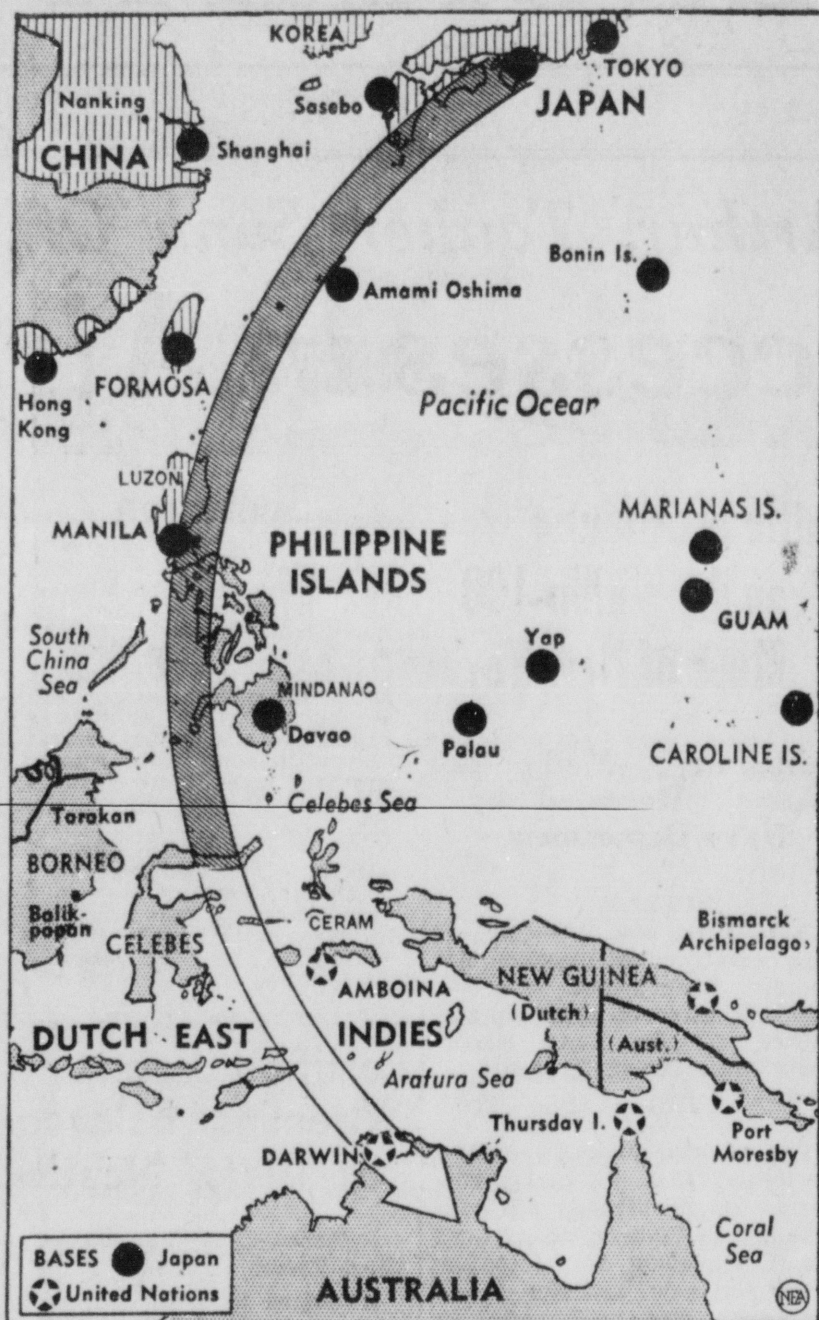

To require handlers of disease germ cultures to be licensed.

Transfer of $1,000,000 from highway construction to maintenance fund.

Proposed appropriations of $4,640,000 for the state police; $1,700,000 for the health department; $150,000 for the division of fire prevention; $178,530 for the division of criminal investigation; $85,000 for the department of safety; $150,000 for the office of the state treasurer; $150,000 for the state auditor, and $750,000 for the attorney general.

Japanese Radio Lists Claims of Imperial Staff

Tokyo, Jan. 15.—(Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—Imperial headquarters today issued the following review of operations in the Philippines since the fall of Manila:

"War prizes taken as a result of the battle of Manila up to Jan. 12 include 130,000 rifles, four artillery pieces, 50 machine guns, 674,900 rounds of ammunition, 500 motor cars, 70 railway carriages, 91 vessels, a large quantity of gasoline, and large amounts of food, clothing and other supplies."

"Japanese forces which attacked American troops south of Hermosa beginning Jan. 9 now are pressing the enemy southward, capturing large quantities of hand grenades and sneezing gas en route."

"The main Japanese force has been striking southward since Jan. 10 and at present is attacking the enemy, who is entrenched in strong positions, taking advantage of the difficult terrain west of Mataban."

"Part of the Japanese forces occupied Olongapo (naval base on Subic bay) on Jan. 10, captured Grande island Jan. 12 and took two heavy guns in the fortress there."

Malayan Campaign
Japanese troops driving down the west side of the Malay peninsula crossed the border into Johore province last night and occupied the strategic railway junction of Gemas.

Gemas, on the border of Malacca and Johore states, is about 110 miles northwest of Johore strait, which separates Singapore island from the mainland.

Domei said, "About 30,000 British soldiers defending Singapore were completely encircled," and that the soldiers of the Rising Sun occupied Tampin, another railway point west and slightly south of Gemas and 20 miles north of the port of Malacca.

The east coast push, meanwhile, was said to have reached Pekan, at the mouth of the Pahang river 130 miles airline from Johore strait.

Argentina's Stand May Make or Break Pan-American Meet

Conference Opens at Rio de Janeiro at 2 This Afternoon

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles of the United States and Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu of Argentina consulted for 25 minutes today and success or failure of the Pan-American conference at hand may have been bound up in that meeting.

The two met in the Argentine's hotel room and, leaving the place separately, they withheld precise comment on their talk. Argentina has shown signs of holding out against any general Pan American breach of relations with the axis.

Welles and Ruiz Guinazu are the heads of their nations' delegations to the third consultative conference of foreign ministers of the Pan American republics. Their talk was in the nature of a preliminary consultation.

The formal opening was set for 5:30 p. m. (2:30 p. m. C. S. T.) with an address by President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, in the Palacio Tiradentes, formerly Brazil's Chamber of Deputies.

The delegates eagerly awaited an address by Welles at the opening session. It was reported that Ruiz Guinazu also might speak. The third meeting of Pan American foreign ministers since 1939 found ten of the 21 republics at war.

Border Dispute Looms

Looming large as obstacles to unanimous and effective action were Ecuador's surprise insistence on obtaining settlement of her 100-year-old boundary dispute with Peru before doing anything else and Argentina's announced refusal to enter into any military alliances or "acts of pre belligerency".

The cautious Argentine foreign minister came to Rio de Janeiro with his nation not committed to any concrete proposals and at a press conference last night he evaded a query whether his delegation was studying severance of relations with the axis nations.

However, there was a report current in pre-conference discussions that Argentina was showing some disposition toward severing relations with the axis—perhaps ending commercial relations, which already are almost paralyzed, without an actual termination of diplomatic relations.

After the formal opening ceremonies, the conference is scheduled to receive some three score resolutions, concerning:

1. The extent to which American republics are willing to aid Uncle Sam's fight the axis.
2. The unification of American economies on a war time basis.
3. Measures for post war reconstruction.

Two Ministers Hurt Enroute to Meeting

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Two ministers en route to Kenosha to attend a meeting of leaders of the Apostolic Church were injured last night in a collision of their automobile and a transport truck on highway 42.

The Rev. Stanley Runyan, 24, suffered a possible skull fracture and severe facial lacerations, and the Rev. Louis C. Mitchell, 34, driver of the automobile, minor injuries. Police listed both as residents of Quincy, Ill.

Official Outline of Censor Rules Has Been Issued

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—American newspaper owners and similar organs of information today had no official outline from the Office of Censorship of publication "practices which the government feels are desirable for the effective prosecution of the war."

The code, issued by Byron Price, director of censorship, calls for withholding publication of "certain classes of information which might be of aid to the enemy."

In general, the ban falls on the publication of ship, plane and troop movements; specifications and locations of fortifications, bomb shelters and camouflaged objects; specific information concerning production of war material; general weather information, and photographs or maps disclosing military information of any kind. Also barred is news concerning movements of the president, and casualty lists other than in a publication's local field.

J. H. Sorrells, assistant director of censorship, will administer the code.

CRASH PROVES FATAL

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Clarence P. Borre, 41, Skokie, Ill., suffered a skull fracture when his automobile crashed into the front of a filling station yesterday.

Mrs. Borre, walking to a nearby cafe while her husband drove to a parking lot, was not injured. The couple was en route to Clearwater, Fla.

Nelson To Sweat Country Into All-Out Defense Work

"Too Much, Too Soon" Is Slogan of New Head Production Board

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A tireless, tough-hearted driver, Donald M. Nelson, is taking charge of American war industry under a pledge to sweat the country into all-out arms production. He wants the story henceforth to be "Too Much, Too Soon" instead of the requiem—"Too Little, Too Late."

"Just ahead of us are the hardest years we have been through since Valley Forge," says the man President Roosevelt has chosen to boss the whole production program.

"Every so often there comes a time which puts all Americans to the test and requires them to show what they can live and work the hard way instead of the easy way. They have always met that test thus far. We ourselves will meet it now."

"This defense program isn't any WPA program—a joyride—for industry. We are not playing for marbles. It's a life and death struggle. We are going to need the labor of every available worker and every machine that can be used in the land."

"We are going to have to give up all manner of things which we would like to have and strip down for a struggle which will take everything we can give it. Hitler is going to win this war unless we deny ourselves everything that we can possibly deny ourselves."

"We can overtake Hitler. The man who says we can't is either blindly ignorant or believes that democracy and freedom are played out and helpless."

Has One Measuring Stick In a Capital crammed with men seeking contracts priorities and loans, Nelson has insisted on one measuring stick alone for all decisions—what will help most to win the war.

His associates believe Roosevelt picked him to head the war production board because he was one of the few who had his sights set on a program as large as the president envisaged even before the two-year schedule of 120,000 tanks.

Interest is picking up and we are looking forward to a great pre-Easter season. Prepare your life for the great future by preparing your spiritual life now.

Epworth League: This Sunday evening the leader of the evening devotional meeting will be Robert Rapp.

Church school adult department election. This Sunday morning the adult department will hold its annual election of their representative to the church board of education. One representative will be chosen. Also, the young people's department.

185,000 planes and 18 million tons of shipping began to take shape.

Nelson is a natural advocate of hard work and self-denial as the solution of the nation's problems. He fought his way up from the other side of the tracks to a $75,000-a-year job as vice-president of Sears Roebuck in charge of merchandising before he was called to Washington June 30, 1940, as coordinator of defense purchasing.

A tanned, six-foot, 200-pound, bald, brown-eyed pipe smoker with a stiff collar and steel-rimmed spectacles, Nelson gets to his office before 7 a. m. and works 18 hours a day. His big mahogany desk is clean except for a half dozen pipes lined up in a row. His manner is modest and kindly. He never loses his temper.

He was born in Hannibal, Mo., 54 years ago the son of an engineer for the Katy Railroad. He worked his way through Missouri University by selling papers, jerking sodas and stoking furnaces. In 1922 he took a "temporary job" with Sears Roebuck to earn money for graduate work but stayed with the mail order firm, rising rapidly through his ability as a clever buyer who stocked up in slack times.

A Thought for Today

Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.—Matthew 3:1.

Everyone goes astray, but the least imprudent are they who repent the soonest.—Voltaire.

Disjoining Process Must Stop

If political efforts to disjoin the private electric industry are permitted to continue in order to further promote Federal socialization of that industry, the inevitable result will be a serious hampering of the war effort, and dangerous undermining of the American free enterprise system which we are waging this war to protect.

As any school child knows, electric power is the very basis of industrial production in a thousand fields of activity. Only a small percentage of the total power consumed is generated by industries for their own use. The great bulk of it is purchased from utility systems. And today, with the tempo of war production being speeded again and again, ability of the utilities to meet the demand is vital to the protection of America—and to the lives of America soldiers, sailors and airmen who depend upon the factories at home for the weapons to wage war.

It is an absolute fact that 100 per cent dependable electric service can only be provided by large systems. The holding company principle of operation, under which great power grids were created and integrated, was largely responsible for the magnificent power service the American people have so long enjoyed.

It is regrettable that, under the terms of the Holding Company Act, with its notorious "death sentence" clause, a number of fine power systems have been broken up. Now we must reverse that policy and permit the industry, with suitable state and federal regulation, to really do its maximum for defense. The presidential announcement to the effect that during the next fiscal year it is hoped that half the national income will be spent for war purposes, indicates how great the strain will be on our industrial production facilities. The private utilities, which produce 90 per cent of all the power used in this country, must meet this demand.

The unnecessary, destructive legislative shackles which bind this great industry, must be broken. Nothing can be allowed to stand in the way of total production for total war.

Hitler has strained the legend of his infallibility pretty far, even for the German people. How long will it be before the German people isolate and identify and destroy Hitler himself as the root-cause of all their suffering.—The New York Times.

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

THE STORY: Mom Baumer sets up "Feederia" lunch wagon at "Tandown" Tambar plantation owned by Jane Ann Judson, last of aristocratic Mauries and married to the world. Other characters are Loren Oliver, Welliver U. pro digressing for Indian relics; Dolf, Mom's pet skunk; Old Swoky, slovene refugee "Doc" Oliver is harboring; football star Angel "Told, who is making strong play for Juddy, dislikes "Doc" whose course he is flunking. Mom and Juddy consult lawyer, Maurice Seara about building tourist camp at Tambay. He tells them Sheriff Hollister, Mowry's distant "left-handed" cousin of the Mauries, believes in Tambay gold legend. Dolf drives away trailer of New York gold bugs, but not before "Doc" takes revolver from one of them.

MOM PLANS A PARTNERSHIP

CHAPTER X

ANGEL TODD blew in for breakfast one morning, looking like he'd slept in the housegoog. "Mom," he said, kind of sad and thoughtful.

"What?" "I've been thinking. Don't ask me what with, I'm serious."

"What are you serious about, Big Boy?"

"Your little pal. She's got me going. She sure is fast on her feet."

"A girl's got to be, to stay in the same ring with you. And I don't mean wedding ring."

"That's when I got my first surprise. I do," he said, "I'm going to marry your Juddy."

"Kid stuff!" I said.

"Kid, nothing. Mom, I'm 25 years old."

He gave me a quick sketch of his life. Since high school days he'd been really a pro under cover. It wasn't false colors, because in those coast schools where he played, that sort of thing was perfectly kosher. Baseball, basketball, hockey; he was a dab at all of them, but football was his best bet.

"Next fall I can be in the money, Mom," he said. "Real money, too. This is under your shirt. Did you notice a slick-looking bird that called me out one night when Juddy and I were eating?"

It happened I did. "He's a fixer for a bunch that follow championship football. Big money birds. He hinted around about how easy an end might fumble a pass or miss a tackle or two. Well, I wasn't having any of that. Then he came out flat and said it'd be worth a year's pay if I had to quit football before the Bailester game."

"Haven't you got an agreement with Welliver?"

"Nothing in writing. Anyway, those deals are full of holes."

"I suppose they are," I said.

Salute to the Railroaders

The Shreveport, Louisiana, Times recently ran this significant little item: "When the Army issued its communique telling of quick steps taken to strengthen coastal defenses, one significant sentence was: 'The railroads aided greatly in the movement of troops and material, operating through trains to destinations on emergency schedules.'"

"A salute, then, to the railroaders. Once more in an emergency they have shown themselves staunch civilian defenders of the nation."

No one is surprised by good railroad service—for the very good reason that the lines do the seemingly impossible time and time again, just as a matter of routine. The size of the job they are handling with such extraordinary efficiency and dispatch, confounds the imagination. They must carry civilian freight and traffic which is running at record levels. On top of that, they must move the great bulk of war and defense traffic. And then, on virtually a moment's notice, they must be prepared to swiftly transport tremendous numbers of troops to wherever the War Department wants them.

Despite all this, there have been no railroad car shortages. There have been no serious delays in moving goods of any kind or description. Passengers, like shippers, are being given the best and fastest service in the history of this or any other country. But the railroads are not resting on those well-learned laurels. They are continuing to steadily build up their facilities, to provide well in advance for the demands of the future.

The railroads are an example of private enterprise at its best. They are examples of what long-range planning by experienced men, not theoretical dreamers, can accomplish. The superb rail service this country has today exists because twenty years ago the railroads decided to get ready for any conceivable national and world emergency.

Save Your Paper

Conserve paper! That request has been made to all the people by the government. Even before we were in the war, the government was using one-third of the nation's paper box production for arms needs, and now military demand will rapidly increase. On top of that, the armed forces have many other important uses for paper of all kinds. The cheapest forms of paper, such as newspaper, can be reclaimed and made into boxes and other articles.

When you do your shopping, get along with a minimum of wrapping. The National Association of Food Chains offers consumers five good suggestions when it says: 1. Don't ask for a bag when an item is already packaged. 2. Don't ask for separate bags unless necessary—or any bag at all if you have only a few items to carry. 3. Take groceries in cartons when available—then use the cartons as receptacles in which to save waste paper at home. 5. Remember to save on all kinds of paper.

Don't think the stores you patronize are being stingy when they stop using paper, string, tape and other wrappings in the wastefully lavish form we've become used to. When they cut down on paper use, they are cooperating with the government. This is just one more of the many ways retailing in all its branches, chain store and independent store alike, is serving the country now.

Every family can help in the conserve paper drive. Save all you can and turn it in when you reach a substantial poundage. The Army and Navy need it.

German Reverses Have Upset Whole Axis Appellate

(By The Associated Press) Germany's reverses on the Russian front have upset the whole axis appellate, usually reliable informants reported from Europe today.

They traced to the plight of the nazi armies on the eastern front to the following:

1. That Turkey still bars the Dardanelles to axis warships.
2. That axis reinforcements for North Africa have not travelled through France and Spain.
3. That signs of disension have appeared among Germany's satellite allies.

Germany (wanting to get the Italian fleet through the Dardanelles to attack the Russian Black sea naval base of Sevastopol, has intensified pressure on Turkey for free use of the straits, these sources said.

They pointed out that nazi troops again are concentrating in Bulgaria, that planes are being massed in Greece and that other preparations are under way similar to those of the Balkan campaign a year ago.

Bulk of Army in Russia But, they said, there is one difference—the concentrations are smaller because the bulk of the nazi army is occupied trying to hold the Russian front.

Whether Germany would try military action to win Turkish concessions, they said, appeared to depend largely on how far the soviet front can be stabilized within the next few weeks.

Military observers said reorganization of the German army command and the degree to which the nazi's Balkan allies can be induced to participate also were factors.

Military observers lay uncertainty in nazi planning—except for a soviet spring campaign—to the difficulties of reorganizing the German army under Adolf Hitler.

One report from a usually reliable source said Field Marshal General Walter von Brauchitsch, whose place Hitler has taken as German army commander in chief, continues openly to express sharp criticism to his officer friends of current military tactics.

Semi-diplomatic information in Istanbul said today that Field Marshal General Siegmund List, last reported two months ago in Athens commanding German forces in southeastern Europe, had disappeared.

The Moscow radio has reported that Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo, is Hitler's new chief collaborator in army direction and that Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering is under a cloud.

Goering was Hitler's crown-prince at the start of the war, head of the mighty Nazi air force and the German fuhrer's own first choice as his successor.

There is no confirmation from Germany, of course, that Goering has fallen from grace.

Informants, however, said he incurred Hitler's displeasure both because he is regarded as having failed to win African concessions in his conferences with French Marshal Petain and also for two differences of opinion with his chief on high strategy.

First, they said, he was overruled in his advocacy of an attack on England after Dunkerque and then he objected to the invasion of Russia.

State Supreme Court Adheres to Decisions

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court today refused to reconsider its recent decision upholding the conviction of Frank E. Konkowski, former Chicago alderman, on charges of defrauding a Chicagoan of $600 by promising him a job as a Chicago policeman in 1938.

Also denied was the petition of George (Bugs) Moran and Frank Parker, the prohibition era's "Flying Bootleggers," for a rehearing on the court's November opinion upholding their conviction on charges of conspiring to counterfeit American Express Company travel checks.

The court denied a rehearing petition filed by Joshua D. Henderson, whose conviction by the Champaign county Circuit court on charges of embezzling $612.91 from the St. Joseph Building, Loan & Investment Company was upheld by the Supreme court last November.

Tire Dealers Plead for Government Aid During Ration Era

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Independent tire dealers recommended to the house small business committee today that the government arrange for long term, low cost loans and business debt moratoriums to tide them over the period of tire rationing.

They complained, also, against the refusal of government rationing officials to permit the delivery to buyers of tires bought and paid for prior to the rationing order and merely held by dealers for storage.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Jan. 15.—Mr. Roosevelt did not go very deep into the barrel for his choice of William H. Davis as head of the War Labor Board.

Before the selection, he sent Madame Perkins to sound out AFL and CIO. The labor secretary found these warring labor factions together again in their complete lack of enthusiasm for Davis.

The president also asked Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones to inquire into the attitude of business through the Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers. Jones could have used Lady Perkins' report. Business was likewise unsympathetic.

But Miss Perkins, Sidney Hillman and Davis wanted Davis and Roosevelt apparently thought the widely disapproved mediators chairman had done as well as could be expected. (They were all friends of old days in New York.)

So the Davis mediation board was merely rejuvinated. Half its members, including the chairman, were allowed to alight in the new board. The old office staff was retained, even the old office and the old telephone number.

Business and labor had no severe complaints against Davis except that they thought the failures of the mediation board (captive mine fiasco and all) could best be forgotten if a fresh personality could be brought in to give the wartime truce between business and labor a stronger character in the new setup. Business also did not like his speeches favoring general unionization and labor did not care for some of his appearance in the movie newsreels.

Thus nothing is guaranteed about how the new board will work out. Several business leaders have made it clear they will not arbitrate the closed shop issue. They will surrender their plant first.

The Kearny shipbuilding case, unsettled by the old board, will be one of the first cases to confront the new board, now that the navy has turned that plant back to private management.

Labor, on the other hand, expects arbitration. It notes the wording of Roosevelt's executive order, stating the board can fix its own rules for compulsory arbitration, and interprets this to mean the closed shop or anything else can be submitted to arbitration by a majority vote of the board.

Obviously someone is going to be disappointed.

The tall tale that the army has discovered an enemy spy ring among the troops apparently is an imaginative outgrowth of the official disclosure that a counter-espionage system exists. Army has only picked up a few stray soldiers who did not look or sound right.

Navy Secretary Knox implied the country would be agreeably surprised when the navy felt free to make public its sinkings of Nazi subs. Talk among navy personnel (not by any means official) is that about 100 Nazis have hit the bottom for good, 30 in the Atlantic before the war actually began.

The Dutch dropped nitroglycerine in the oil wells around Tarsus in the Persian Gulf, making a practice of arming civilians with axes to cut down rubber trees in front of the Jap advance, but no one here is confident that needy Japan will be denied these essential war resources for very long. Many Dutch oil wells are expected to be out of commission six months at least, and it takes five years to grow a rubber tree. Yet assurances as to the extent of the damage are lacking.

It seems to be unanimous that Nathan Straus should resign as head of U. S. Housing. His office once had a petition expressing some more or less affectionate regards in that direction. Straus had criticized other federal housing units so severely the USHA cannot get money from congress without a petition from anyone in the government.

But, even in resignation, Straus may have been too strong. He submitted his resignation to the president in such critical terms as to have delayed its acceptance. His office force hears arrangements are under way for Straus to resign in much milder language.

The brown cover handbook for air raid wardens from the Office of Civilian Defense, January 5 said:

"Fill your bath tub with water before an air raid. But the microphone instructions from the local OGD for the metropolitan area advised (Jan. 2): Don't fill your bath tubs."

Local OGD says it fears a water shortage if everyone fills his tub while national OGD fears you would not have water if the main is out.

Fewlexed air raid wardens may fear there has been more confusion in OGD than La Guardia cared to admit.

Committee Finds Much Wrong With Defense Machine

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The senate defense investigating committee charged today that American war production had been hampered seriously by months of official bungling, labor selfishness and management greed.

In a report covering its studies during last year the committee accused government agencies of slowing war output by a mesh of "bureaucratic red tape" and declared:

1. That after two years of frantic effort America has too few planes to allow adequate flying time for its pilots and that many of them are "mediocre".
2. That dollar-a-year men on loan from industry were actually lobbyists for their former employers and should be eliminated.
3. That the automobile industry had been allowed to continue civilian production virtually unchecked throughout 1941, with no real conversion to military production even attempted.
4. That a concerted effort should be made to use all the facilities of small manufacturers in defense production.

Has Been Costly

Expressing full confidence that the war could be won if proper remedial steps were taken, the committee asked a reorganization of the Office of Production Management to do away with the "dollar-a-year" officials. This recommendation was already in type Tuesday when President Roosevelt announced reorganization of the war production system with Donald M. Nelson, former mail order executive at the helm.

Made public by Chairman Truman (D-Mo), the report warned that:

"Carelessness and inefficiency have already cost us a great deal and, if continued, can cost us much more."

The committee said prospects for future airplane production were "not too good" and added that radical changes in methods must be made to meet the military demand.

Swedish Millionaire Blacklisted by U. S.

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The multi-millionaire Swedish financial operator Axel Wenner-Gren was put on the state department's blacklist today just as he was considering formation of a $200,000,000 syndicate in Mexico.

The fabulous Swede who numbers Greta Garbo and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor among his friends appeared in an addition of 1,800 individuals and firms to the blacklist. The list is made up of those the state department deems "to be acting for the benefit" of the enemy or those to whom the export of various goods might be detrimental to American defense.

An associate of Wenner-Gren's said in Mexico that the industrialist was "by no stretch of the imagination an axis sympathizer" and that the blacklisting was "a terrible mistake".

HOW TO READ AN AD

By George B. Anderson

"This advertisement confuses me," a friend complained the other day. "The headline makes you think it's going to talk about a specific thing and then the ad itself doesn't much more than mention that particular point. It goes off at a tangent."

Good advertisements build from the headline. A "trick" headline that forces people to read a lot of copy which has nothing to do with the subject mentioned in the headline may get readers—but will seldom create buyers. It is more apt to create resentment against the advertiser than sales.

If the customer benefit an advertiser has promised in the headline has been interesting and appealing enough to get readers into the body of the ad, it is certainly foolish for the advertiser to deviate from the appeal that has aroused the reader.

Good advertisements enlarge on the headline. A benefit is promised in the headline, and the copy makes that benefit become real. It shows why the product will produce the result that has been promised, and explains the manner in which it will accomplish such a purpose.

It defines and interprets what the headline has claimed, just as a top-notch insurance salesman enlarges upon the opening statement that he can provide security for you.

The copy gives the details that substantiate the headline claim. If the headline claim is not made convincing by the copy, the ad has an excellent chance to fall down on its job. When an advertiser creates a buying desire in our minds by a statement, he better prove that statement before he does anything else. If he doesn't prove it, we'll buy. If he doesn't prove it, we'll buy. If he doesn't prove it, we'll buy.

We buy merchandise and services only because we find hope to benefit ourselves, and we want the greatest possible assurance that our purchases will achieve such a result.

"How do I know people will read my ads?" a merchant asks.

Unless he's prepared them with that goal in mind or unless he's extremely lucky, he doesn't know. However, many advertisers have proved over a long period of years through trial and error, that certain qualities cause advertisements to be read.

One of the first things an advertiser must recognize is that people don't have much time. They're working under pressure. A million and one things demand their spare minutes. They obviously can't afford to spend the time that would be required to read every advertisement in their newspapers.

The way most people read ads is to glance at all of them and read the ones that give promise of some direct, personal benefit. That means that an advertiser is expecting too much of us if he doesn't get his basic message across to us in a hurry. We should be able to tell what the ad is all about the instant we see it.

The factors which get an advertiser's message across in a hurry are the layout of the ad, the headline and the illustration.

The layout or design of the ad should get favorable attention and should establish the character of the message. The headline should tell as briefly as possible what the message is all about, and the illustration should show the product or service in use.

Students Learn to Do-Ci-Do in Dancing Class

Square-dancing—harking back to the days of the fiddle and jug, when Grandpappy called to the measures of Money Musk and the Virginia Reel—is sweeping the country from Hollywood to New York in a new wave of popularity, and is keeping Dixon high school dancers happy in a trial revival of the quaint dance which probably will become an elective subject on the school's curriculum next year.

Since mid-November, at the suggestion of Principal B. J. Frazer, sixth-period gym classes of Miss Zora Cernich (a newcomer to the Dixon high school faculty this year) and A. C. Bowers have been concentrating on the Do-Ci-Do, Allemande, Circle Left, Grand Right and Left, and other steps that are keeping the dancers happy and happy. Recordings of singing squares direct the patterns of the dance.

Between halves of the Princeton-Dukes basketball game here tomorrow evening, familiar strains of "She'll Be Comin' 'Round the Mountain" and "Mademoiselle From Armentieres" will bring the dancers out on the floor to swing, clog and promenade in their long-awaited debut. The girls will be wearing cotton shirt blouses and short skirts, and their partners will don bright plaid shirts, bandanas, overalls, and gaudy belts for the occasion.

The dancers announce that they will go to other towns and exhibit on "quest. Students enrolled for the square-dancing class include Mary Arnould, Dorothy Barlow, Jean Blocher, Dolly Catalog, Ruth Cruise, Betty Cummings, June Dempsey, Rosanne Deutsch, Evelyn Duffy.

Betty Bettendorf Becomes Bride of Henry Gonnerman

Piccadilly gladioli decorated the altar of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Ashton today for a noon wedding in which Miss Betty Bettendorf, only daughter of the Fred Bettendorfs of Franklin Grove, became the bride of Henry C. Gonnerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gonnerman of Ashton. The Rev. Mr. Henke performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the bridal pair.

Miss Anna Marie Schafer was the nuptial musician. She also played the accompaniments for Mrs. Russell Gracie, a friend of the bride since childhood, who sang two songs, Cadman's "At Dawning," and "I Love You Truly."

The bridal party entered the church to strains of the traditional wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin." The bride walked with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a street-length dress of aqua blue, with brown accessories, accented by a corsage of pink roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, her bridegroom's gift.

Miss Dorothy Smith of Ashton, the bride's only attendant, was dressed in rose crepe with brown accessories, with a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The gold pin she wore was a gift from the bride.

Frank Schinzer, Jr. was Mr. Gonnerman's best man.

gold crepe dress with black accessories. After Feb. 1, they will be at home on the Gonnerman farm, south of Ashton.

Weekly Food and Marketing Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz for Dixon Telegraph Readers

The words January, Inventory and White Sales are identified almost as closely as the famous trio, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's. And they "follow hard upon," as Shakespeare might have said.

This year the homemaker who looks ahead will pay more attention than ever before to her linens. Habitually every household gets a white good going-over in January. If you happen to be one of the lucky women who has been able to stay out of linen stores and linen departments for the past year, you are due for a shock when you start on January replenishments. And with good reason!

Cotton sheeting, formerly a product of which we had a huge surplus, now is at a premium. To prevent an unfair rise in the price of the raw material, the government has been forced to put a ceiling price on cotton. This means that cotton cannot be sold above a certain maximum price. However a rare product difficult to secure, has a right to charge more than it would in normal times. Cotton sheets—difficult to obtain because not only is the cotton being used for defense but, in addition, most of the sheet mills are being kept busy making sheets for army camps.

The sheet troubles that have been born this past year are likely to increase. So stock your sheets and pillowcases now.

First of all, have you simplified the problem of a neat, well-kept closet by buying sheets with permanent projecting size index tabs? These handy little tabs, sewed to the edge of your sheets, signal the size even before the sheet is removed from the shelf or drawer. Not only does the tab plainly state the size of bed and width of sheet, but a special tab color in itself is indicative of the bedsize.

Do not buy sheets by any one rule-of-thumb. Some women think if a sheet "feels right," it is the best they can get. Others are impressed by the salesman who talks about "extra threads." Remember that no single statement can tell you all you should know about sheets.

The keen homemaker who studies her household equipment and supplies as carefully as any business executive has learned to demand six things in a sheet: 1. long wear; 2. whiteness; 3. smooth soft "feel"; 4. easy washability; 5. economy; 6. correct size.

How may the average shopper determine whether her purchase covers these six essentials? In buying sheets, it is of the utmost importance to select those bearing the trade mark of manufacturers known to produce good value in wearing qualities. Fineness in quality does not necessarily insure good wearing value, as the number of threads to the square inch does not indicate the strength of the fabric. Briefly: Look for a label you can trust and you will get the wear you want. Of course, I am assuming that wisdom governs the handling and laundering.

Generally speaking, wearability and washability are synonymous in sheets; both depend primarily on the quality and length of the cotton fibres. Muslin sheets are the longest wearing. With average care in handling, good muslin sheets should last eight years.

One dependable New England manufacturer gives a more conservative figure, declaring that five years is not too long a term of service to demand from the best (in the sense of the strongest) sheets and cases, if they are used reasonably in a private family. The type he referred to is heavy muslin, in which the substantial threads are woven close together in both warp and filling. Washings, of course, are the greatest strain on your sheets, but the longer term of durability quoted here is figured on 200 washings over a period of eight years, at 26 washings a year. When the linen supply is limited, this figure naturally climbs proportionately.

The edge of the sheet is one of the points where it is subjected to greatest strain. Some long-wearing sheets give extra strength at this vital point with a double row of extra heavy woven selvage.

Besides our sense of economy, we all like our household items to appeal, whenever possible, to our sense of touch—and we want them to look well, too. We want a smooth tailored look on our beds. Good sheets have soft strength; they feel smooth and firm in the hand; they do not rumple as sleazy sheets will. They retain their body with age, yet take on soft texture like old linens.

One attractive innovation we have seen in sheets is the beauty hem. This is a woven-in, damask-like border of stripes replacing the usual folded and stitched hem. Sheets may be personalized by the addition of attractive monograms, either appliqued or embroidered on. If you prefer, the monogram may be replaced by some insignia consistent with the person for whom the sheets are being prepared. For instance, a child's sheet might be embroidered on the hem of the sheet. Clan plaids are another inspiration for appliqued initials.

The average homemaker has very definite ideas—and buying habits—governing the number of sheets needed per bed. However there is a minimum supply of sheets and cases for one bed. Six sheets per bed and three cases for each pillow permits a set on the bed, one in the laundry and a third in reserve on the linen shelf. This is a minimum for a weekly change. When the bed linen is changed oftener, more sheets and cases are needed. An unexpected delay in laundering makes this minimum a close margin.

In the pillow case, width is the important feature: Width is measured as distance around the pillow, plus two inches which should be permitted to enable the case to slip off and on easily. Average size in pillow cases are 36, 38½ and 40½ inches.

In sheets, the 108 inch torn length is the minimum length that should be bought for best service. Torn length refers to the length of a sheet before it is hemmed. Twelve inches are allowed for the tuck-in at head and foot. Four (torn) lengths offered are 90, 99, 108 and 113 inches.

Cheap sheets often are heavily filled with starch to enhance their appearance on the counter. When the starch washes out, as it must do, the sheets will show up in their true character, sleazy and perishable. Such goods are "bargains" in name only. The homemaker's protection against such disappointing purchases is to deal with firms which have a national standing, paying a bit more for the quality which they write into the tags on their well-wearing linens.

TO SCALLOP IS TO DELIGHT
"To scallop is to prepare with crumbs of bread or cracker and bake." So says N. Webster. However, in the modern culinary department, to scallop is to turn out handsome dishes. Furthermore, there is almost no limitation on the variety and the different combinations of foods that may be scalloped.

There are scalloped main dishes, such as eggs and shrimp or potatoes and chops there are vegetable combinations or tomatoes and cheese, made exciting with Brazil nuts, and there are such fruit treats as grapefruit and apples or bananas and apples that team excellently for desert. Potatoes, onions and macaroni are most frequently scalloped.

The first scalloped dishes were prepared and served in large scallop shells, hence the name. Some authorities argue that this was the beginning of the individual casserole, now developed in attractive glass that comes proudly to the table direct from the oven.

Scalloped Eggs and Shrimp
6 hard-cooked eggs
3 cups canned shrimp (3 No. 1 cans)
2 cups white sauce
2-3 cup buttered bread or cracker crumbs
Slice eggs. Rinse shrimp under running cold water thoroughly; drain well. Arrange alternate layers of sliced eggs and shrimp in greased casserole. Add white sauce. Top with buttered bread or cracker crumbs. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F. about 20 minutes, or until nicely browned. Serves 6.

For a nourishing and inexpensive luncheon dish, there is nothing more appetizing than scalloped tomatoes, snapped up with cheese and nuts.
Scalloped Tomatoes and Cheese
4 cups canned tomatoes

Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
¼ cup melted butter
1 cup grated American cheese
Season tomatoes to taste with salt and pepper. Add sugar. Combine crumbs and chopped Brazil nuts; combine with melted butter. Arrange alternate layers of tomatoes, cheese and crumb-nut mixture in casserole, ending with crumbs. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in moderate oven 350 degrees F. Serves 6.

Gehring Retired By Tigers; May Be Given Coaching Job

Name of Star Infielder for Many Years Not on Club's Roster

Detroit, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers have retired Charley Gehring, sick fielding second baseman, by omitting him from their 1942 playing roster, but the door to his return to baseball is more than slightly ajar.

The Detroit management is endeavoring to interest the 38-year-old mechanical man infielder in a coaching job under Manager Del Baker where he conceivably would undergo the usual conditioning process and thus might be available for active duty in an emergency. But thus far the untalkative Gehring, pursuing his business as a manufacturer's agent, has been somewhat more than characteristically silent.

For the first time in 19 years the name of Gehring was missing from the Detroit squad list when it was announced yesterday. To fill the second base job the Tigers nominated Jimmy Bloodworth, acquired by trade from Washington, and Lambert (Dutch) Meyer, former Texas Christian footballer purchased two years ago.

Seven Infielders
On the squad list the Tigers named seven infielders, nine outfielders, 15 pitchers and three catchers. For the shortstop post held mainly in 1941 by Frank Croucher, now with Washington, the club sighted a three-cornered battle involving Murray Franklin and Eric McNair, returning from the farm system, and Billy Hitchcock, purchased from the New York Yankee affiliate at Kansas City.

Rudy York at first base and Pinky Higgins at third are without apparent opposition for jobs, but Zeller said farm talent might be brought up if needed.

Report Completed
When the Texas Aggies football team, returning from the Washington State game, heard of the Pearl Harbor attack, talked to H. C. (Pelly) Dittmann, Aggie grider who had become an Army flier. One of them said: "I bet he's shooting and laughing, and I bet he comes back with enough medals to fill a chest. The guy doesn't know the meaning of the word fear." A month later Dick Freeman of the Houston Chronicle, who reported that remark, published the Postscript—Lieut. H. C. Dittmann had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for piloting a secret flight of bombers from Honolulu to the Philippines.

Tennis Association May Turn Game Over To Rank and File
New York, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Faced with the problem of carrying on through the war with what players the armed forces don't need and the professionals don't want, the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association is about to take the game away from the stars and hand it over to the boys who still find the net too high.

The first step in adjusting the U. S. L. T. A. program to wartime requirements will be taken at the organization's annual meeting here Saturday, with President Holcombe Ward advocating a plan to "get people out of the grandstand and onto the courts."

Specifically, Ward will request the executive committee to cancel the national indoor tournament for men this year and let the outdoor championships, both singles and doubles, be decided in one tournament at Forest Hills instead of separately as in the past.

In the future, Ward said the U. S. L. T. A. will pay less attention to the first ten ranking players and more attention to the rank and file.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. (Wide World Sports Columnist)
New York, Jan. 15.—(Wide World)—Looking ahead (maybe): The tennis association is planning to reduce its tournament activity of 1942 to one big affair at Forest Hills. If Wayne Sabin and Gardner Mulloy turn pro, only five of the first ten will be left and the Army may get a couple of them. Amateur boxing talent is getting so scarce in Virginia they say the state A. A. U. tournament may be called off. One result of tire rationing may be that fishermen will have to stay closer to home and rely on heavy stocking to catch fish.

No Fare
In Chicago Monday morning, the secretary of draft board No. 84 was checking through her records. Suddenly she turned to the selectee who had been appointed leader of the group about to leave for the scene of physical exams. "Please return one of those street car tokens I gave you," she said. "Mr. Louis isn't here."

Sportpourri
First time Joe Louis hears the bugler play "I Can't Get 'Em Up," he'll probably think of Ray Arcel, who has had to say that about eleven of Joe's victims. Milt Aaron, the Chicago lightweight is in a hospital battling septicemia. Mickey McConnell, who looks after the Dodgers' farm business, reports an encounter with a college athletic director who had an athlete 6 feet 5 1/2 inches tall and was giving him stretching exercises in the hope that he'd get too tall for the Army.

Today's Guest Star
Banjo Smith, Columbia (S. C.) Record: "One hope I have for '42, 'A hope you, too, must share; 'I hope we've heard the very last 'Of Max and Buddy Baer'."

Three Remain in Undefeated Class in Billiard Meet
Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The world three-cushion billiards tournament's undefeated field, which lost Ralph Greenleaf yesterday, may be reduced even further today if Earle Lookabaugh maintains his surprising play.

The Chicagoan had not won a match going into yesterday's play but against Greenleaf, the pocket billiards champion making his first bid for three-cushion honors, Lookabaugh showed fine from the start and polished off his foe with a brilliant finish—20 points in 10 frames—to win 50 to 38. The match went 46 innings and was Lookabaugh's first victory in four starts.

Tonight Lookabaugh will continue his undermining campaign against another undefeated opponent—Welker Cochran. Champion Willie Hoppe also will return to action, seeking his third win in a row at the expense of Art Rubin of Brooklyn, who has yet to win a match.

The threesome of Hoppe, Cochran and Joe Chamaco made up the unbeaten field today with Chamaco having a one-game edge as the result of yesterday's 50 to 30 triumph over Otto Reisel in 35 innings.

Great Lakes Five Takes Its Big Ten Opponents Easily

Northwestern Wildcats is Second Conference Team to Tumble

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Great Lakes' basketball team still is taking Big Ten opposition in stride. Last night it was Northwestern, the Wildcats becoming the third Western Conference member to lose to the Sailors who now have a season's record of 14 victories and two defeats.

Ohio State of the Big Ten dealt out one of the setbacks, Michigan State the other. The Sailors' Big Ten victims included Purdue and Indiana as well as a third Hoosier team, Notre Dame, which will get another crack at Great Lakes in the Chicago Stadium Feb. 9.

The Wildcats, who only Monday met their first defeat—by Michigan—went down last night, 47 to 38, after a struggle in which the lead changed hands seven times. Great Lakes finally took command midway in the last half on the shooting of Bob Calihan and Frank Baumholtz. Calihan wound up with 19 points and Baumholtz 10. Russ Wendland topped Northwestern with 15 as the Wildcats sophomore sharpshooter, Otto Graham, was held to seven.

The game, played before 5,000 sailors, helped dedicate the new Great Lakes drill hall.

In other games last night, Lake Forest handed North Central its first Illinois College conference defeat in two starts, 38 to 31, Elmhurst ousted Eureka 41 to 35 and Shurtleff lost to Rose Poly of Indiana, 61 to 35.

Tonight's card is limited to two games: Indiana State Normal at Eastern Illinois Teachers and Principa at Illinois College.

Ensign Thomas of Rockford Tangoed Out of Death's Way
San Francisco, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Death reached from the sky at these men—and missed. But it came close. Too close.

It taught them the sharp agony of bullets and of bombs splintering against human flesh. It left them torn and burned. More than that, it angered them because it took their buddies in the Pearl Harbor attack of Dec. 7.

Today, lying in a Bay area naval hospital, passing the hours with books, magazines and radios, they live for one moment—when they can take up the fight where they dropped it before they really had a chance to get started.

"I am going to get back there as soon as I can," said Lieut. John J. McCormack, Jr., 29, of 2965 Valentine Avenue, New York City.

"I can't get back there fast enough," declared E. J. Brumley, 20, of Edinburg, Texas.

"You couldn't ask for better patients," said Lieut. Commander W. E. Walsh, chief of surgical service, to newsmen who were permitted by the Navy yesterday for the first time to interview the wounded officers and men.

The wounded smiled as they told of Japanese metal they brought back—in their bodies. Newsmen found abundant cheerfulness.

McCormack, a flier, was at a naval air station when a Japanese squadron flew over. Bomb fragments struck both of his legs.

"Was Damned Good Fight"
"It was a damned good fight while it lasted," he said.

"I'm going to get back. I'd like to see those Japanese against our opposition now."

Down the corridor was a young man who saw death coming, and neatly tangoed out of the way. He was Ensign R. E. Thomas, Jr., of Rockford, Ill., 1941 Annapolis graduate.

He looked up and saw three Japanese bombers diving at his section of a battleship. The center plane loosed a bomb that headed straight for Thomas.

Thomas went into a tango dance routine. The bomb wounded his right hand and leg. His left ear still rings from the concussion.

Out in the enlisted men's section, sunshine flooded in from windows at the head of the beds in the long wards. Radios gave out music. Young Navy nurses in white uniforms moved about. Sailor boys in white pajamas were segregated according to the type and degree of wounds.

Every Penny of Garden Gate Has Been Tabulated
New York, Jan. 15.—(AP)—If you have been wondering exactly what happened to the $100,000 the navy relief fund didn't get from the $189,700 gross gate of last Friday's Joe Louis-Buddy Baer brawl, just think no more of it.

Every cent is accounted for and a beaming navy, with a check for $89,092.01—don't ask what that odd cent is for—is all smiles not only over its take, but over the fact that Promoter Mike Jacobs added several thousand dollars to the charity's cut by holding expenses lower than for most of the other heavyweight championship shindigs in the last decade.

Now that Louis is plain buck Private J. Louis Barrow, you can sit down and figure out just how much it costs to put one of these super-colossals.

To begin with, the promotion, ballyhoo and buildup cost of a major heavyweight tea-party, such as last Friday night's figured to be, ordinarily runs within shouting distance of $25,000. This time, Uncle Mike held it down in the neighborhood of $14,000. The difference went to the navy fund for families of sailors at sea and killed in action.

The fund's gaudy payday was made up of $47,100.94 from Louis, who turned in his entire net out of the gate; $47,229.96 from Jacobs, who contributed his whole net profit, and the Garden, which kindly consented to kick in with half of its net take; $4,081.11 or one-sixth of Baer's purse; $450 from the ring officials—referees, judges, etc.—who worked for half pay, and $230 from the preliminary fighters, who have a tough time getting by as it is.

JANITOR'S WIFE SUICIDES
Vandalia, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Alonzo Cole, high school janitor at nearby Ramsey, told a coroner's jury his wife, Sadie, had been depressed by world conditions before he found her dead of a bullet wound in the heart on the floor of their home late yesterday.

The coroner's jury found the wound was self-inflicted.

WESLEYAN COACH QUIT
Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Don Heap, head coach at Illinois Wesleyan University and former Northwestern University backfield star, has resigned to accept an appointment as a civilian athletic instructor in an army aviation camp. He said he did not know where he would be assigned.

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United Nations if they memorize the markings illustrated above. Axis raiders are easily spotted through the familiar black cross and swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

Winnebago Grand Jury to Take Up Recent Delivery

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 15—(AP)—State's Attorney Max A. Weston announced the grand jury would investigate today a county jail break which brought the suspension yesterday of two jailers and a matron on charges of "general laxity".

Five men escaped in the break on Dec. 29.

Sheriff William C. Bell of Winnebago county said the three jail officers were given 30-day suspensions. Those suspended were George Buser, chief jailer; Ray Higginbottom, jailer on duty who was slugged and knocked unconscious by the escaping prisoners, and Mrs. Lela Piper, matron.

The sheriff said they had failed to report that the prisoners used iron slats from jail bunks to attack Higginbottom. He said Higginbottom had reported the men were armed when they attacked him, stole his keys and rode down an elevator to freedom. He said Mrs. Piper was in her jail quarters at the time of the break—about 6 a. m.—but the chief jailer was not on duty.

Three of the prisoners were captured within a few days, but two remain at large. Edward Poppe, 27, of Chicago, was taken into custody at East St. Louis, and Richard Coates, 18, and Wayne Palmer, 17, both of Rockford, were arrested in Decatur. Palmer subsequently was sent to Joliet penitentiary for two terms of from 1 to 20 years and the other two are awaiting grand jury action.

The two still at large are Edward Nicholson, 24, of Chicago, and Harold E. Smith, 25, of Rockford.

Use of Conscientious Objectors as Guards in Hospitals Opposed

Elgin, Ill., Jan. 15—(AP)—Elgin state hospital officials plan to use from 30 to 35 conscientious objectors to relieve a labor shortage at the institution, but the local American Legion post objects.

Managing Officer Charles F. Read said yesterday it was exremely difficult to hire male attendants and that the use of men who have refused to go to war because of religious beliefs probably would start in a week or ten days.

The Legion post, however, sent a protest to Governor Green and Welfare Director Rodney Brandt, saying that conscientious objectors might be given the care of unfortunate veterans of the first World war.

The Elgin hospital now has 135 male attendants where it normally would employ 200.

The state hospital at Gardner, Mass., is the only public institution now using objector labor, Read said.

LET'S GO!

No wonder today's youth smiles, whether he is tackling sports or the next big meal. Brimming with life, he burns up energy at such a clip that he needs to refuel three times a day. But that doesn't worry this sturdy chap, for he knows that Mother is on the job with those wholesome meals that make you come back for more.

The relation of proper cooking methods to health building will be one of the outstanding nutrition problems discussed by the experienced Cooking School lecturer. "Let's go."

President of T. P. W. Tells of Hiring Man To Guard His Trains

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—George P. McNear, Jr., president of the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railroad, testified in Federal court yesterday on the railroad's request for an injunction against violence in a strike that he had hired additional armed guards but ordered them not to use their guns.
McNear said he also telegraphed sheriffs and police along the line asking protection for the company's trains, three of which were being operated by non-union help. He said some of the sheriffs did not answer, some said they had no funds to give the sought protection and others agreed if the railroad paid for the guards.
The railroad was expected to complete its testimony today in the hearing which began a week ago, and testimony of the two railroad brotherhoods on strike was expected to last two days. The temporary restraining order against violence will continue until Saturday.

Mayors' Congress Opposes Appeals of Chicago City

Against Further Water Diversion From Lake Michigan by City

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The tenth annual Conference of Mayors adopted a resolution prohibiting the lowering of the Lake Michigan level after an angry debate between Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and the mayors of other Great Lakes cities yesterday.

Kelly sought passage of a resolution to "eliminate and minimize" water pollution, but Mayor Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit amended it to prohibit lowering of the Lake Michigan level and as it finally passed the resolution was aimed at Chicago interests and Kelly unsuccessfully sought to have it tabled.

Mayor F. Zeldler of Milwaukee led the fight against Kelly's resolution, charging it was "part of a famous old Chicago steal". He contended Chicago sought to "steal" Lake Michigan waters at the expense of other Great Lakes cities.

The Milwaukee mayor maintained the Chicago problem was the result of many years negligence. Diversion of Lake Michigan waters, Zeldler said, would lower the lake level and "ruin" the Great Lakes harbors. He told the conference the Great Lakes cities and several Canadian provinces were opposed to the Chicago plan.

Kelly contended that Chicago was "confronted with disease" because of pollution. He said that he had asked the Surgeon General to survey the situation and take action "to keep our people from being poisoned".

Kelly contended the pollution, which he said already had caused yellowing of water in Chicago, was caused by Indiana waste disposal.

"All Chicago is asking is protection from disease until Indiana cities complete filtration plants", Kelly said. Representatives from Toledo, Ohio, and East Chicago, Ind., joined in the opposition to the Chicago plan.

OHIO PROTESTS
Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker and Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert have protested to Secretary of War Stimson against asserted renewal of efforts by the city of Chicago and the state of Illinois to increase diversion of water from Lake Michigan to the Chicago drainage canal.

In a telegram to Stimson, they contended that any increased diversion of water at this time would be a "serious blow to America's war efforts" and termed "greatly exaggerated" the claims of Chicago and Illinois officials that a health menace would result unless increased diversion were permitted.

NUMBER 711
Brownwood, Tex., Jan. 15.—(AP)—The telephone number in the enlisted men's service club for negro troops at Camp Bowie is 711.

Attend The Dixon Evening Telegraph's Annual Cooking School. Starts Tuesday, Jan. 20. Doors open at 1 P. M.

Alderman Douglas of Chicago Enters Senatorial Race

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Paul H. Douglas, a professor and an alderman, is in the Democratic senatorial race, which leaves the next move up to Mayor Edward J. Kelly and State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Benjamin S. Adamowski is one of the Chicago Democrats waiting to see what Kelly and Courtney will do about the Democratic primary situation.

As the first Democrat to announce, Douglas said he has advocated for six years opposition to the axis nations. He is a strong supporter of President Roosevelt.

Adamowski, former state representative who ran unsuccessfully for the senate in the 1940 primary, said he was "ready and eager" to run as a Roosevelt supporter.

But like a lot of other Democrats, he was watching Kelly and Courtney.

Courtney, who broke vote records in his three elections as prosecutor, has been noncommittal about his 1942 intentions.

Kelly, who also has been suggested as a candidate, has given no indication what part the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization would play in getting Democratic names on the ballots.

A first term in the city council, Douglas was elected with Kelly-Nash support. Since then he has been independent and frequently critical of city hall policies.

A professor of economics at the University of Chicago, Douglas started to get acquainted with downstaters last fall when he made an extensive speaking tour in support of the Roosevelt foreign policies. For six years, he said, he has declared that the axis nations were a menace to America.

A committee of supporters heard Douglas' announcement yesterday. It was qualified by a declaration that he would withdraw "if it should seem that another man can fill the place of senator better or that I can serve more humbly but no less effectively elsewhere."

It would be an error, the alderman said, to nominate men who failed to support the president before Pearl Harbor.

Illinois Soldiers Finish Guard Duty

By Charles L. Fontenay
Camp Forest, Tenn. Jan. 15.—(AP)—Soldiers of the 130th (Illinois) infantry regiment were back in camp today after a month of wartime guard duty in Tennessee's vital industrial and defense zones.

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, 33rd division commander, said the troops were replaced at their guard posts at bridges, defense plants and airports in the state by civil guards.

The 130th was one of two downstate Illinois regiments that pulled out early the morning of December 8, fifteen hours after Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor plunged the United States into war. The other was the 129th infantry.

"The regiments were getting ready to move within a few hours after news of the Pearl Harbor bombing came through", Maj. Gen. Lawton said proudly. Both were underway within eight hours after orders were received.

Trucks bearing soldiers of the 130th back to camp started rolling in late last week.

State's First County Wide Blackout To Be Staged This Evening

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Illinois' first county wide blackout will be staged tonight when lights are ordered to be turned out for 30 minutes in Lake County.

The practice alarm, affecting Ford Sheridan, the Great Lakes naval training station and 120,000 civilians, will be ushered in at 7 p. m. by fire sirens in 18 towns.

Lake Forest, with 177 gas lights left over from horse and buggy days, offered defense officials a unique problem and it was decided 136 would be turned off by air raid wardens and the others left lighted but at widely scattered points.

It is the event of the season with many women when The Telegraph's Cooking School comes to town. Reserve Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
